Agreement. Membership is open to all persons or organisations supporting the Objects of the Society which can be viewed on the Society’s web site: <https://www.wildflowersocietywa.org.au/about-us/policies-and-objectives/> and are here:

- To encourage the conservation and preservation of Western Australian flora by, among other things, supporting efforts to strengthen laws and regulations for the conservation of Western Australian flora, encouraging enforcement of laws and regulations and making submissions on the preservation of Western Australian flora to government and other organisations.
- To raise public awareness about the value of, and need to conserve, bushland.
- To promote the cultivation of Western Australian flora in home gardens and public areas.
- To promote the study of Western Australian flora and to keep records of information on growing methods and the performance of such plants under cultivation.

I agree to support the Objects of the Wildflower Society of Western Australia.

Australian Plants Journal

Members are entitled to subscribe to an additional publication called Australian Plants Journal, a national quarterly which is produced by the Australian Native Plant Society. I wish to subscribe to Australian Plants Journal for one year (four issues) - cost $24.20 (includes postage).
